DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 15-18, 22, 23 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dennison (US 2004/0113136 A1).

In re claim 15, Dennison (esp. Fig. 9) discloses a semiconductor device, comprising:

a conducting element (180) at least partially disposed within a substrate¹ (140);
a bottom electrode (220) at least partially disposed on a surface of the substrate and having a sidewall (210) operative coupled with the conducting element; and phase change material (300) at least partially disposed on the surface of the substrate and operatively coupled with the bottom electrode.

In re claim 16, Dennison discloses the device of claim 15, wherein:

the bottom electrode has dimensions of length, height, and width;

the bottom electrode has its length substantially parallel to the substrate;

¹ Note that a "substrate" does not have to be the bottommost layer of a device. A "substrate" can be any underlying layer such that there are layers above.

Art Unit: 2815

the bottom electrode includes a plane end surface formed substantially at a right angle to the length; and the plane end surface forms an operative contact with the phase change material.

In re claim 17, Dennison discloses the device of claim 15, further comprising a pad layer (210) disposed on the surface of the substrate wherein the bottom electrode is formed on a sidewall of the pad layer.

In re claim 18, Dennison discloses the device of claim 17, wherein:

the pad layer comprises a top surface, a bottom surface, and at least two sidewalls (on either side of the conductor 180) disposed between the top and bottom surfaces; and the bottom electrode is formed on one of the at least two sidewalls.

In re claim 22, Dennison discloses the device of claim 15, further comprising a top electrode (310; section [0053]) disposed on the phase change material.

In re claim 23, Dennison discloses the device of claim 15, wherein the phase change material comprises chalcogenide material (section [0052]).

In re claim 26, Dennison discloses the device of claim 15, wherein the bottom electrode may comprises polysilicon or tungsten.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 19-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. Claims 24, 25 and 27-29 are allowed.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
